

Prince Asufu-Adjaye
Economics Consultant

Education

PhD (Development Studies), School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London 2016-2020

- Thesis Title: Trade Union Responses to Neoliberalism in Ghana

MSC (Apply Labour Economics for Development), University of Turin, Italy 2010-2011

- Thesis Title: Private Returns on Education in Ghana

Executive Master (Apply Labour Economics for Development), Institut d'Études Politiques, Paris 2010-2011

- Thesis Title: Private Returns on Education in Ghana

MPhil (Sociology), University of Ghana 2006-2008

- Thesis Title: Factors Contributing to Urban Farming: A Study of Vegetable Farmers in Accra Metropolis.

BA (Hons) Sociology with Philosophy, University of Ghana, Legon 2001-2005

- First Class (FGPA of 3.77 out of 4.0) (Akuafu Hall Excellence award for graduating with first class, May 2005)

SOLUTIONS IN THE LAND

Professional Summary

- 2012 Asafu-Adjaye, Prince "Private Returns on Education in Ghana: Estimating the Effects of Education on Employability in Ghana" African Sociological Review, 16 (1): 121-139
- Asafu-Adjaye, Prince "The Tendency to Urban-Farm in Accra: A Cultural Lag-Labor Surplus Nexus" Journal of Third World Studies, XXIX (2): 157-182
- 2006 Asafu-Adjaye, Prince "The Opportunity that never was: Assessing the African Growth and Opportunity Act's benefits to Ghana" Legon Journal of Sociology, 3 (1): 35-47

Conferences and Workshops attended

- Feb. 28-March 2, 2008
SPIN Cities: Farming Where We Live Workshop and Pollinating our Future Urban Agricultural Conference, Organized by the Michael Field Agricultural Institute at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, United States of America.
- June. 22 - 26, 2009
Green Jobs: Linking Environment, Climate change and the world of work. Organized by the International Training Centre –ILO-, Turin, Italy.
- Sept. 14-16, 2009
- Forum on the Global Financial and Economic Crisis and the Global Jobs Pact, Lomé-Togo. Organized by the ITUC-Africa
- June 14-18, 2010
35-Hours PMBOK-Based Course in Project Management (Merjja Technologies)